Plotting the Course

Wednesday 13th June 2007, Grand Hotel, Oslo

Welcome to the 3rd Oslo Shipping Forum

The Oslo Shipping Forum 2007 programme centres around three key areas of vital interest to ship owners and operators. It will examine openly, and in many cases provocatively, the following hot topics for our industry.

- A critical examination of the ever-shifting background of incentives to develop the maritime clusters and attract the shipowners to relocate their headquarters.
- The investment climate for marine transportation – predicting the unpredictable
- Asset player vs. logistic provider. A close look at creating shareholder value while minimizing risk

The forum is designed and produced for shipping CEO's from listed and private shipping companies, brokers, key investors in shipping, bankers and entrepreneurs. As with all our events, the mix of commercial, political and business hot topics and hot operators will come together to create a free-flowing debate and give access for all delegates to actively participate, contribute and learn.

We look forward to welcoming you to the Oslo Shipping Forum 2007!

Session 1 09:20–12:30 Heading for the high seas - Where are our shipping companies headed for?

A critical examination of the ever-shifting background of incentives to develop the maritime clusters and attract the shipowners to relocate their headquarters.

What is the competitiveness of the major maritime hubs in the world?

Is shipping a global industry or a series of global villages?

Are we in Norway selling the crown jewels – ending the concept of having a national maritime fleet?

Session chairman
Morits Skaugen
Chairman
Oslo Maritime Network

09:20
What do the regulators require from the maritime industry?

- Setting the scene - attracting the winners
- Why isn't shipping a top-priority in Norway?
- The Danish Maritime Cluster – an agenda for growth: our experiences
- The Greek experience - our strategies
- Our strategies for a successful maritime cluster - Singapore
- The British experience
- Modern registries as an industry regulator – working together to achieve a balanced approach

10:20
Coffee break hosted by Top Tankers

TOP TANKERS INC.

10:40
What does the maritime industry require from the regulators?

11:20
Discussion between speakers, discussion panelists and audience participants on the following themes
Is shipping a national or an international industry and which maritime policy is required?

Can the markets be regulated in a global economy?

Will the competition between maritime authorities/registries end or will they all go down together?

The never ending incentives war; is it accepted by other industries?
